

CPD REQUIREMENTS POLICY

CPD activities are expected to develop and maintain professional competence to enable you to continue to perform your professional role. Any learning and development that is relevant and appropriate to your work and professional responsibilities and growth as a CPA will qualify for CPD.

For Continuing Professional Development (CPD) reporting, members are to determine if they are required to meet full CPD requirements or if they are considered exempt from CPD requirements. If you are a member of more than one provincial CPA body, please contact the other bodies to ensure that you meet all CPD requirements.

FULL CPD REQUIREMENTS

All Members of The Chartered Professional Accountants of Manitoba (CPA Manitoba) who engage in the provision of services that use the skills, knowledge, experience or competencies gained through a member's professional training, education or experience as a CPA, (or legacy CA, CGA, CMA), which includes but is not limited to those who are employed in the workforce or are self-employed regardless of whether they are providing services to clients as well as those who serve on a Board, Audit/Finance Committee or similar governing body for a large or prominent organization regardless of compensation, are required to adhere to all CPD requirements.

- 1) Maintain 120 CPD hours over a 3-year rolling period (calendar year)
- 2) CPD learning activities are classified as either Verifiable or Unverifiable. A minimum of 60 CPD hours over the 3-year rolling period must be Verifiable, which shall include a minimum of 4 hours of verifiable learning in professional ethics.
- 3) A minimum of 20 CPD hours must be reported annually, including a minimum of 10 hours of verifiable learning.
- 4) The annual CPD reporting deadline for a calendar year is April 1st of each year. Failure to report CPD by April 14th, will result in a $105 fee.
- 5) 1-hour relevant CPD learning activity = 1 CPD hour.

For audit purposes, members are expected to retain, for a minimum of 36 months, documentation in support of verifiable CPD activities claimed. Verifiable CPD documentation should:

- Describe the learning activity;
- Identify the provider of the activity, where applicable;
- Connect the member to the activity;
- Identify when the activity took place; and
- Provide a basis for concluding that the number of reported hours is reasonable.

EXEMPT FROM CPD

Members may qualify for an exemption from CPD when they do not earn income related to the provision of services that use the skills, knowledge, experience or competencies gained through a member's professional training, education or experience as a CPA (or legacy CA, CGA, or CMA) or who do not serve on a board or audit committee (as contemplated in the Full CPD description above) are exempt from reporting CPD.

Special Circumstances

Members who encounter special circumstances that severely limit their ability to meet the CPD requirement may apply for temporary CPD reporting relief. Maternity and medical leave are two examples of situations where consideration may be given for temporarily exempting a member from meeting their CPD requirements. To apply for CPD reporting relief due to special circumstances, e-mail your request and a description of your circumstances to era@cpamb.ca.

Members returning to Full CPD Status

Members who were exempt from full CPD requirements due to special circumstances for two or more years will be required to submit a CPD action plan to CPA Manitoba for approval by the Registration Committee. The CPD action plan should include the nature and number of CPD learning activities the member will complete to update their professional competencies and skills along with the anticipated completion date(s) to update their professional competencies.

Verifiable vs. Unverifiable Learning Activities

For the purposes of CPA continuing professional development, learning activities offer significant intellectual or practical content that provides a member the opportunity to develop new or existing competencies in areas relevant to a member's professional responsibilities and growth. Learning activities that result in evidence that the learning activity was undertaken are considered to be "verifiable". "Unverifiable" CPD refers to learning activities that cannot be verified objectively.

Appropriate learning activities are circumstance-specific, and each member requires different professional competencies. The choice of relevant learning activities must be considered in the context of each member's own professional responsibilities.

Examples of Verifiable Activities

- Self-directed learning to prepare for an exam without a structured study program, and passing the exam;
- On-the-job training; major change in job responsibilities, major involvement in special projects, significant learning of new software, systems, and procedures.
- Developing or delivering a course or CPD session, whenever there is a new or refreshed learning experience;
- Formal study of courses leading to a degree, certificate, or diploma;
- Participation as a speaker in conferences, briefing sessions, or discussion groups;
- Writing articles, papers, or books of a technical, professional, or academic nature
- Participation in professional courses, conferences, and seminars;
- Professional re-examination or formal testing;
- Providing or receiving professional development as a facilitator, mentor or coach; or
- Serving on a board or committee contributing to professional competency.

Examples of Unverifiable Activities

- Technical reading, self-study of published materials, self-study courses; or
- Research, including reading professional literature or journals, for application in the professional accountant's role.

Professional Ethics

Professional ethics CPD is learning that specifically addresses professional ethics and/or professional conduct matters that are relevant and appropriate to the member. Just like all verifiable learning activities, the four-hour professional ethics requirement can be fulfilled in a number of ways, including coursework (whether through a CPA body or other sources), and other relevant learning activities (including in the workplace).

Examples of topics for Professional Ethics

Professional ethics CPD can cover a wide range of topics related to ethics and ethical decision making. The four hours do not have to be obtained in one single program but can be accumulated through ethics components in any number of seminars or courses. Examples of ethics topics include, but are not limited to, the following:

- CPA regulatory updates covering the provincial CPA Act, Bylaws, Bylaw Regulations and Code of Professional Conduct
- Regulatory updates that are relevant and appropriate to the member's role or industry
- Professional conduct
- Corporate Codes of Conduct
- Independence/conflict of interest
- Ethical decision making, approaches, thinking and case studies
- Ethical business culture
- Corporate social responsibility
- Honesty in business practice
- Bribery and corruption
- Doing the right thing
- Reputation and risk
- Whistle-blowing
- Anti-money laundering (AML)

Professional Competence for Engagement Practice Leaders Responsible for Audits of Financial Statements - IES 8 (revised)

- a) Provinces comply with IES 8- Professional Competence for Engagement Practice Leaders Responsible for Audits of Financial Statements (Revised);
- b) The requirements of IES 8 be monitored through the following process:
 - Completion of an annual self-assessment & declaration by members performing the role of an engagement practice leader responsible for audits of financial statements, that they have undertaken sufficient relevant CPD to develop and maintain professional competence as required by IES 8 (Revised);
 - The above annual self-assessments & declarations be subject to review and quality checks on the relevance of CPD taken through the provincial CPD audit process; and
 - The provincial Practice Inspection Program (PIP), which utilizes a risk-adjusted cycle, to review competence areas and learning outcomes specified in IES 8 (Revised) as part of the inspection and assessment of adherence to standards and quality control for all members performing the role of an engagement practice leader responsible for audits of financial statements.
